

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

JEFFREY ZANK HAS BEEN APPROVED TO TEACH FOUR NEW RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY MANAGEMENT CLASSES

Albuquerque, New Mexico (October 18, 2019) – I'm proud to announce that the New Mexico Real Estate Commission (NMREC) Education Advisory Committee (EAC) has approved Jeff (hey, that's me) as instructor to teach 4 new residential property management classes. These classes include a Leasing and Marketing class for 6 CE hours, Brokerage Operations for 4 CE hours, Going to Court for 3 CE hours and a Case Study class for 3 CE hours. All are new Property Management classes than can be taken to meet the NMREC core needs for Qualifying and Associate Brokers.

With these 4 new classes and prior approval of the Uniform Owner Resident Relations Act class I am now approved to teach 5 total classes. As an experienced residential property manager I'm proud to be able contribute to the learning, growth and professional development of other like professionals in New Mexico.

I have over 10 years of experience in the real estate industry in residential property management throughout the Albuquerque metropolitan area. My commitment is to provide outstanding customer service, maximizing profit for customers while maintaining a growing, successful/profitable business all making a difference in customer's lives. Guided by a strong set of values, I am committed to ensuring that these characterize all interactions with industry peers, customers, vendors, and residents. I work together with industry peers, customers, vendors and residents as a team player, striving to deliver innovative and entrepreneurial assistance, clearly expressed through open communication. I make every effort to share a sense of enthusiasm and fun while striving to continually deliver excellence to industry peers, customers, vendors and residents.
